Planning Learning Approaches for Nowadays Students

Developing new learning pathways in the context of digital literacy

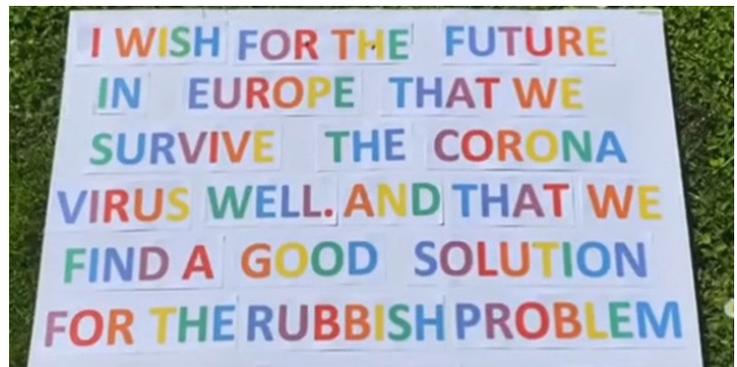

The last months of this project year passed between open questions and hopes. Despite difficult conditions, the project continued ... digitally.

There were (partial) tasks on the topic "European Union" the framework of the Europe week, which unfortunately could not take place. On the occasion of Europe's birthday on 9th May, young people from the five partner countries sent congratulations and appeals for more cohesion and solidarity for a Europe in the future via video messages.

Wishes from R.L. (8.4)

Wishes from F.W. (6.5)

In Portugal, podcasts on "European Values" and Robert Schuman, as well as impressive posters on Europe Day were produced in the advanced course. Further implementations are being considered.

In Prague and Romania the students gave presentations about interesting facts in Europe.

The Spanish school organised a digital collective reading against homophobia and for human rights during Europe Week.

The German team completed a Bipacour ("digital chase") on the cultural heritage of Cologne. This will be part of the eBook and will be carried out as an interactive quiz on site in December 2021 as part of the last project meeting of all project students. We have also been working on our eBook and CLIL/PBL materials.

Our project anthem "A Place to Live in" has also been completed. Next year we will work on a video for it.

The Politics Course 9.3 has already produced the first texts for the podcasts on sustainability with its class teacher, while the Bilingual Course 8. 8 produced beautiful anonymous videos on diversity in European cuisine as part of the project activity "Europe: CLIL and traditional".

All the results of our 1st project year can be found here in summary form.

Our project mascot "Hugo" looks nostalgically from the airplane over Spain and is looking forward to the reunion of our European friends in Portugal.

We would like to thank all those involved in the project for their support and contributions. Your contributions are indispensable. We are looking forward to normality in the 2nd project year.
